

Widespread hail damage has resulted in toxins in corn this year. If your crop sustained hail damage and you suspect any mold and toxins in your corn, please send a sample to Grain Inspection Inc in Appleton MN for verification. We will not be able to dump any corn that shows signs of toxins or mold. Toxins and mold that make it to the food chain are fatal to many livestock and flocks. If we detect any defects while you are on the scale, we will have to reject the load until verification is received. Please visit with your crop insurance adjuster to see how you should proceed during harvest.
